RE: Dr. Dianne Bingham v. DHSS
98-00041-HSS-ST4
Hearing Date: 4/1/99

Dear Mrs. Turner:

This is to confirm that Dr. Bingham withdraws her grievance against DHSS. The hearing scheduled for April 1, 1999 should be removed from the calendar.

I also want to take this opportunity to explain the basis for Dr. Bingham's decision. Dr. Bingham feels strongly that she was treated unfairly by Dr. Galliani, and that her treatment can be attributed to sex discrimination. However, even though she feels strongly that she could have proven that Dr. Galliani discriminated against her based on sex, she does not believe that the MERB has power to grant her requested relief under the Delaware Code. Basically, the MERB has power to grant relief when there has been a change of position. In this case, Dr. Galliani changed Dr. Bingham's assignment, but not her position, therefore, we do not believe that the MERB has the power to grant the requested relief. Thus, her decision should not be construed as an admission that her claim did not have merit, but rather a recognition that the MERB did not have the power to grant her relief even if she proved her claim.

Very truly yours,

Michael W. Modica
